He also led the development and construction of the state-of-the-art spring training facility known as the Lee County Sports Complex which opened in Ft.

Myers, Florida, in 1991.

Bell joined the Twins after serving as executive director of the Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission, which operates the Metrodome. He joined the MSFC as assistant executive director upon the commission's inception in 1977.

He was named senior vice president of business affairs in February of 1999 and assembled a sales and marketing group which has increased annual attendance eight of the last nine years and in aggregate by more than 128% since 2000. In addition, St. Peter's leadership has been integral in the team's growing corporate partnership base, expanded Twins Radio Network, aggressive community outreach and increased alumni involvement, including the development of the Twins Hall of Fame.

St. Peter has been part of a leadership team helping the franchise win five American League Central Division championships in the past eight seasons (2002-2004, 2006 and 2009). During St. Peter's leadership tenure, the Twins have twice been named "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America (2002 and 2004). EARNED-RUNS RULE

The determination of earned-runs is as follows:

'An earned-run is a run for which the pitcher is held accountable. In determining earned-runs, the inning should be reconstructed without the errors and passed balls, and the benefit of the doubt should always be given to the pitcher in determining which bases would have been reached with errorless play.'

Until 1969, a reliever could not be charged with an earned-run if he entered the game after the side could have been retired but for an error, no matter how many runs he subsequently gave up in that inning. Now, runs scored by batters who reach base off the reliever are charged as earned on that pitcher's record. They are not, however, charged as earned against the team as a whole. Therefore, a discrepancy may occur between the total earned-runs charged against a team and the sum total of the earned-runs charged against the individual pitchers of that team.

MAJOR LEAGUE WAIVER RULES

There are four types of waiver requests: Trade Assignment Waivers, Outright Assignment Waivers, Optional Assignment Waivers and Unconditional Release Waivers

Trade Assignment Waivers (formerly Major League Waivers) – Are necessary for any player assignment between Major League clubs made from August 1 until the day after the close of the regular season. Waivers are required to trade any player during this time period. Prior to August 1, players may be traded from one organization to another without waivers.

Outright Assignment Waivers (formerly Outright or Special Waivers) – Are irrevocable and are required for a Major League Club to assign a Major League player outright (i.e., without right of recall) to a Minor League Club during certain periods through the year.

Optional Assignment Waivers (formerly Major League Waivers) – Are required in order for a Major League Club to assign a Major League player optionally (i.e., with right of recall) to a Minor League Club, if required by Rule 10(e)(4). Optional assignment waiver request may be revocable or irrevocable.

Unconditional Release Waivers - Can be secured at any point during the year.

ABOUT THE UNIFORMS

In addition to the changes to the primary and secondary logos along with club lettering, the uniforms worn for the 2010 Inaugural Season at Target Field reflect the first substantial changes since 1987.

The home and alternate sleeveless jerseys are white with navy blue pinstripes. The modified Twins script in scarlet is on the front, along with the Twins State of Minnesota patch on the left sleeve. The player's names are directly embroidered above the numbers on the back. The alternate navy blue jersey has the same Twins script on the front, along with the same patch and name treatment. For the 2010 season, the home white and alternate navy blue jerseys have the Inaugural Season patch on the right sleeve. The alternate sleeveless has a smaller version of the Inaugural Season patch on the left chest.

The road uniform is solid grey with navy piping. Pinstripes have been removed and the block Minnesota lettering has been changed to a modified navy blue version of the Minnesota script, reminiscent of the team's jackets from the 1960's through the early 1980's. Names are directly embroidered above the numbers. The new primary logo is displayed as a patch on the left sleeve. For the 2010 season, a 50th Season patch is on the right sleeve.

The Twins wore an alternate home uniform on Saturdays for the 2010 season. It is a replica of the uniform worn in 1961, when the Twins began play in Minnesota. The Inaugural Season patch on the right sleeve and "two guys shaking hands" patch on the left. The current home hat is worn with this alternate.

The home hat remains navy blue with an interlocking scarlet and white script "TC". The road hat is the same as the home, except for a red bill. The "M" hat is an alternate. For the 2010 season, hats have a side patch of the Inaugural Season mark.

SAVES RULE

Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher; and
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or
 - (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or
 - (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

It is considered a 'blown save' when a pitcher who has entered a game in a save situation departs with the save situation no longer in effect because he has given up the lead. If the save situation still exists when he leaves the game, he is not charged with a save opportunity. And, if he has not given up the lead when he leaves the game, even though the save situation may no longer exist, he is not charged with a save opportunity.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball Club. These local winners are announced in September during Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Jamie Moyer, Jim Thome, Rod Carew, Dave Winfield, Kirby Puckett, Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

The 2010 Minnesota Twins Roberto Clemente Award nominee was first baseman Justin Morneau.

DESIGNATED HITTER RULE

A hitter may be designated to bat for the pitcher in any spot in the batting order in any game without affecting the status of the pitcher. The designated hitter must be selected and be included on the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in-chief prior to the game. Failure to do so precludes the use of the designated hitter for that game.

The designated hitter is 'locked' into the batting order but may be removed for a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, who in turn immediately becomes the designated hitter. The designated hitter, while still in the game, may be used defensively but the pitcher must then assume the batting of the replaced defensive player, thus terminating the designated hitter role. The designated hitter is eligible for all American League batting titles.

PINCH-HITTER RULE

A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter, and then only on his first time at bat, which must be before he becomes a fielder. (If the team bats around and a pinch-hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch-hitter during that second time up.)

A substitute hitter for a designated hitter is both a pinch-hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate he is a designated hitter only.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BASEBALL ACADEMY

The Twins Dominican Republic operations were completely revamped following the 2003 season. The club relocated its training complex to a state-of-the-art baseball complex in Boca Chica, which opened in May, 2004.

The Complejo Latinamericano de Beisbol, S.A. (a.k.a. "Baseball City") houses four Major League organizations: Arizona, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati and the Twins. Each club has its own individual facilities within one large complex.

The club provides housing and meals for amateur players working out in the Academy program, as well as for its professional players on the Dominican Summer League team.

A lower level of the two-story building includes a locker room, weight training room, office/meeting space, laundry, kitchen and a large dining room. The second floor features seven dormitory rooms which can accommodate up to 56 players, two large staff rooms, and a large game room. Programs are provided year-round to teach English and cultural development to all signed players.

Boca Chica is located 30 minutes east of downtown Santo Domingo, and the Twins complex is just 10 minutes from the international airport.

The playing facilities include a full-sized playing field, an additional infield for workouts and drills, two covered batting tunnels and a six-mound training area for pitchers.

The Twins Dominican facility is in full operation from February through mid-December.
